WILL BE A PRIMARY

Many Politicians Gather in Louisville This Afternoon.

Meacham Says He Will Make No Further Fight Against a Primary.

EVANSVILLE COMBINE BROKEN

MEACHAM WEAKENS.

Louisville, Jan. 24.—The lobby of Seelbach's hotel is filled with candidates, and members of the state executive committee, which meets this afternoon to complete arrangements for a state primary May 9. All members of the committee are present save D. W. Gardner of the Tenth district, whose proxy is held by Chairman Albie W. Young. Charles M. Meacham, who has been opposing a primary, said this morning that while he was still opposed to the plan, he would take no further steps against it. "I am no boister," said he, "I fight with in my party in a friendly way and if beaten take my medicine gracefully."

The sub-committee, composed Chairman Albie W. Young, John M. Lassing and Mott Ayers, appointed to determine the method of holding a primary, will report in favor of a primary under the Carroll law, each county chairman being allowed to name the election officers.

"BUSTED" THE COMBINE.

Evansville, Jan. 24.—The society girls have broken up one combine. Local cabmen recently raised the price of a theater carriage from $1 to $2. Girls not wishing to see their escorts imposed on decided to walk to entertainments in the future. The cabmen then held another meeting and restored the old prices.

LINE COMPLETED

POSSIBLE TO TALK OVER I. O.'S LONG DISTANCE.

The long distance telephone line the Illinois Central has for the past several months been constructing on the Louisville division of the Illinois Central has been completed, and in a few days will be extensively used by the company in transacting its business.

The telephone is proving a great success all over the Illinois Central system, and the line now extends from Louisville to New Orleans.

GOOD STEAMER.

LOUIS HOUCK ON THE WAYS AT MOUND CITY, ILL.

The Louis Houck, a towboat which had been laying up at Cairo for the past three years, is on the ways at Mound City being repaired extensively. She was formerly owned by a salt company, but has been sold to the Barrett line. Several thousand dollars will be expended in improving her, and it is claimed she will then be one of the best boats on the Ohio.

DONALD STILL AT LARGE.

Henry Donald, the negro who killed Tobe Williams, has not been caught, and it is not known whether he is hiding in the city or has left town. Some of the police seem to be of one opinion and others the other. The remains of his victim were buried yesterday afternoon.

KOONTZ IS CAUGHT

Negro Who Has a Mania for Filling Out Blank Checks. Arrested.

He Is Charged with Robbery But the Witness Has Now Gone Away.

IS AN OLD OFFENDER

Franklin B. Koontz, a mulatto who is well known in police circles here, is in the lockup charged with robbing Vincent Stewart, colored, fireman on the W. W. O'Neil, but as Stewart has left the city for Louisville, the officers do not think there is much chance of getting him back here to testify against Koontz. As stated yesterday Stewart while drunk was robbed of $26 and a railroad ticket at the Illinois Central depot night before last.

Koontz had been seen with him, and the police knew, at once that he was guilty. He was arrested last night, and will be held a day or two, at least.

Koontz is well known in police circles. He was first arrested here six or eight years ago for stealing a valise, and sent to the penitentiary. He pretended to be a lawyer from Washington, and wrote letters to President McKinley and others, pretending that he had influence with high officials, and asking them to come to his aid.

He has a mania for getting blank checks and filling them out with large amounts of money, signing fictitious names to them. He is not known ever to have secured any money on them, it seemingly being his object to show them around and make a display. When he was arrested here several years ago he had a valise full of all kinds of checks, some blank and some filled out, on many banks throughout the country, and when arrested yesterday he also had a large supply, some being on Chatta nooga, Tenn., banks.

Chief Collins says that if Koontz ever got any money on any of his checks he never heard of it. Most of the signatures seem to be fictitious names, or no one ever shows up to prosecute.

POLICE COURT

Mrs. Sargent's Case Again Continued Until Monday.

Several Minor Cases Tried This Morning By Judge Sanders.

Judge D. L. Sanders in the police court this morning continued the grand larceny case against Mrs. Sargent until Monday. It will be remembered that some time ago she was arrested after Mr. Sam Hubbard had lost fourteen or more chickens. She claimed to have bought the fowls from some one else and a warrant was issued for the person she claimed to have purchased them from, but the police have never been able to catch him. Some disposition of the case will be made Monday.

The warrant against Percy Grimes, charged with presenting a pistol, was filed away, as the prosecuting witnesses have not been found.

L. W. Hurt was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness.

A plain drunk case against Albert Harnes was dismissed.

Mr. W. K. Ponge was by confession fined $1 and costs for a misunderstanding he and Mr. Fred Heilbron had yesterday.

FREE LECTURE.

Col. Hlop of Ohio will deliver a free lecture on Monday evening in the lecture room of the Broadway Methodist church. Subject, "Simon Says Thumbs Up." Mr. Pallas Brown of Clinton, a talented violinist, will play during the evening. Everyone invited.

Mrs. Andy Clark went to Earlington this morning on a short visit. Her husband, who has been in Chicago, has also gone to Earlington to visit.

WILL BE COMMUTED

In all Probability This Will be Col. Lynch's Sentence

He Was Yesterday Given the Death Sentence at London.

FOUND GUILTY OF TREASON

London, Jan. 24.—Col. Arthur Lynch was found guilty of treason and sentenced to death.

When the trial of Col. Lynch, who is a member of parliament for Galway, on the charge of high treason was resumed yesterday counsel for the defense began summing up. There was no attempt to deny that Col. Lynch supported the Boers, but counsel contended that his naturalization was in no way prompted by treasonable intent, and was solely for the advantage he would thus secure for journalistic purposes. Subsequently the defendant actively supported the Boer cause in the belief that he was a legally naturalized burgher.

The lord chief justice summed up very briefly. He said that if in war time a British subject joined the king's enemies, whatever his purpose, he was guilty of an unlawful act. Naturalization during war time afforded no excuse whatever for subsequent acts. There was abundant evidence, he said, of overt acts in aiding the king's enemies.

The jury, after having been out half an hour, returned a verdict of guilty.

When asked if he had anything to say as to why he should not be sentenced to death Col. Lynch replied: "Thank you. I will say nothing."

The sentence of death was passed on each of the four counts in the indictment.

The prisoner then bowed to the court and was removed in custody.

Although formally sentenced to be hanged, Lynch's sentence will no doubt be commuted.

COAL TO BE REDUCED

One Dealer to Cut the Price One Cent.

It Is Expected That Other Dealers Will Make a Reduction.

On Monday the public is promised a decrease in the price of both egg and lump coal, the decrease being made by the St. Bernard Coal company.

Coal has been selling at 14 cents per bushel for egg and 15 cents per bushel for lump, the advance being made by the mine operators who raised the price to the coal dealers. At that time the coal dealers explained the matter, laying the raise wholly at the door of the mine operators which made the dealers raise the price.

The St. Bernard company now announces that it will make a decrease of 1 cent on the bushel and it is expected that the other companies will follow the example although nothing definite has been given relative to this point.

One prominent coal dealer said this morning in regard to the cut:

"The advance made in the price of coal several weeks ago was not done by the dealers here but by the operators who mine the coal. They advanced the price to us and we in turn were forced to advance the price to the public. We will have to confer with the operators before we can state anything definite about the decrease—whether we will make any or not."

Coal has been high this winter and the decrease will be received with much appreciation by the public. There are many dealers in the city and will have to confer with the operators before they can state positively whether or not they will follow the example of the St. Bernard company.

Barry and Henneberger announce a reduction, also, this afternoon, effective Monday. Others will doubtless follow.

THE AMOUNTS FIXED

Council and Aldermen Met as Committee of the Whole

Amounts for the Various Departments Were Settled on Last Night at the City Hall.

ABOUT $120,000 NEEDED

A meeting of the council and board of aldermen as a committee of the whole was held last night at the city hall pursuant to a call from Mayor D. A. Yeiser to consider the amounts to be levied for the various departments this year.

Aldermen Kirchhoff and Singleton and Councilmen Brooks and Woolfolk were absent.

The mayor stated that the total property assessment this year would be about $8,000,000, and that a rate of $1.25 would raise $120,000.

A wrangle arose over whether the $26,505 asked by the board of education should be expressed in money or in per cent, some contending that it should be money, while others said it should be 35 cents on the $100, and the question was passed.

The amounts decided on were: Aldermanic and councilmanic salaries $2,640.

Salaries for the executive department, including mayor, attorneys, etc., $13,025.

For streets, $22,000. $2,000 less than the inspector asked.

Fire department $11,000.

Police department $24,180.

Light plant $8,000.

For water $10,500.

Real estate, $15,000, which includes library site, property for street purposes and so forth.

City hall $3,000.

Oak Grove $2,500.

City hospital and pauper $6,000.

Sanitation and pest house, $2,500.

General expenses, including market house, city scales and other departments $4,500.

Fifteen hundred dollars for contingent fund and $750 for court costs.

Interest fund $17,000.

Sinking fund $1,000 and floating debt, $1,000.

Five hundred dollars for public library.

The school apportionment was placed at $27,000.

This all having been done as a committee of the whole the council was convened and gave first passage to the appropriation ordinance as outlined above.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Clearings this week $645,082
Same week last year 439,277
Increase 205,805

The bank clearings this week show a big increase over the same week last year and indicate a heavy business. Counter business is very active.

The wholesale houses report good business, but the bad condition of the country roads is having some effect. Some of the roads are in a very bad condition and farmers find it a hard proposition to get anywhere.

Retail business is very good for the season, and merchants are making no complaint.

The Luck Singletree Co. report a rush of business beyond their ability to handle as they would desire, and the Sutherland Medicine Co. report an increase in the sales of Pine Tar Honey of 23 1-3 per cent over the same month last year. The Smith and Scott Co., under the new regime, is starting off with a rush of business, and reports from all local houses are that the new year has started off well.

THE SUN'S PUZZLE PICTURE.

"Where are the two people we saw?"

The Week In Society.

THE NEWSPAPER MAN.

He seldom is handsome or natty,
And has none of the charms of the dude;
Is often more abstracted than chatty,
And sometimes unbearably rude.
He courts us, then, sighs us and grieves us,
As much as he possibly can;
He kisses us, loves us and leaves us,
This perfidious newspaper man.
Our mothers won't have him come calling,
He's no earthly good as a "catch";
His morals (they say) are appalling;
His finances usually match.
He's rollicking, reckless, uncaring,
Lives but for the hour, the day;
He's dangerous, dubious, daring,
Not fit for a husband, they say.
But somehow we girls are forgiving;
Perhaps he but needs us the more
Because he goes wrong in the living
And knows the old world to its core.
So we pass up the dude and the schemer,
Who leads in society's van,
And cherish the thinker and dreamer
Enshrined in the newspaper man.
—Marie M. Hemstreet in the Blue
Pencil Magazine.

AN UNIVERSAL SORROW.

The week which began so auspiciously for society, promising much pleasure, has been shadowed at the end by a heavy sorrow. The death of Mrs. William E. Cave, when few realized that she was so critically ill, has clouded many hearts and homes today. Instinct with life and vitality, just a little while ago so keenly alive to the joys and sorrows of all about her; gracious, loving and sympathetic, no one can think of her as having passed from our ken. It was given to her to occupy a place rarely filled by a minister's wife perhaps, and to be in intimate touch with many peoples of her city. Her childhood, her sunny girlhood, and her happy married life were all spent here. She had grown up among a people who knew and loved her. Beautiful and a social favorite, when "the most popular girl in her set" married the young minister of the First Presbyterian church, she gave up none of her vivid enthusiasm, but only turned it to other things using all to the honor and upholding of her husband's high calling. She lost none of her interest in the pleasures of others, and so it was she kept her old friends and her place in their hearts, while adding daily new ones to her list. Her graciousness and her tact, such essential factors in her girlhood's success, were used with the same power in her husband's work and she was that rare thing an absolutely uncriticized minister's wife. She held her old place in our social life in an unusual way, dropping the unessentials but keeping the essentials, and was in touch with all that is highest and best. She was identified with the Delphic club, being one of the leading members, but was no "club woman," her home being her throne of honor. In ways and places too numerous to enumerate she will be missed by a people who loved her, and the social life of her city is shadowed today, but it is the better for having known her and the sunshine of her presence.

RECEPTION TO MRS. SLAUGHTER CAMPBELL.

street was the scene of a very charming reception on Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock when Mrs. Albert Jackson Decker and Miss Decker received in honor of their guest Mrs. Slaughter Campbell of Clarksdale, Miss. The pretty rooms always most attractive were very effectively decorated with plants and flowers, pink being the color-motif. An orchestra in the hall played during the hours. In the front parlor Mrs. Decker, Miss Decker and the guest of honor, Mrs. Campbell received, and with them was Miss Faith Langstaff.

Mrs. James Rudy and Miss Dow Husbands stood between the parlors, and Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, Mrs. Denis Moccot, Mrs. Cook Husbands and Mrs. Irvin Cobb were in the back parlor.

In the dining room pink carnations were used in profusion making a charming effect. The table had a white cover with lace center piece and vase of carnations in the center. At diagonal corners were big bunches of pink carnations with wide pink satin ribbon. Mrs. Alonzo Meyers poured the coffee in this room and was assisted by Misses Martha Leech, Susanne Jorgenson of Princeton, Elizabeth Sinnott and Mae Paxton. A delightful course-luncheon was served here.

In the library opening out of the dining room, punch was served, and was presided over by Mrs. Campbell Flournoy, Misses Martha Davis, Mabel Rieke, Laura Sanders and Helen Decker. Many of the young ladies were gowned in pink adding to the pretty scene. A large number of guests called during the hours.

A PRETTY WEST END RECEPTION.
Mrs. W. H. Bradley and Mrs. Henry Bradley received at their attractive home on West Broadway from 3 to 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon. The rooms were charmingly decorated and it was a reception attractive in all of its details.

Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw and Mrs. Armour Gardner welcomed the guests on entering. In the pretty parlor the hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mesdames L. S. DuBois, Milton Cope, John Keiler, Max Nahm, of Bowling Green, Frank Rieke, Rabb Noble and Elizabeth Austin.

The dining room was a charming conception in white, that being the tone of all the decorations. An apogee of lilies of the valley was in the center of the table. The candelabra held white candles and shades and white ribbons added to the dainty effect. Here Mesdames James E. English, Fred Rudy, Clara Burnett, Misses Laura Sanders, Martha Leech, Anna Mae Yeiser and Elizabeth Sinnott received.

In the coffee room Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory and Mrs. David Van Colin poured the coffee assisted by Misses Mabel Rieke, Carline Sowell, Myra DuBois, Elsie Bagby and Ethel Brooks. The color-tone in this room was pink, and pink carnations, pink ribbon and pink candles gave charming effect and setting.

A large number of guests were present during the afternoon.
BOX PARTY AND PRETTY LUNCHEON.

MORE CONSISTENCY.

The ways of some of our councilmen are past understanding. Councilman Joseph Potter, for instance, the "friend of the people," and who is "mentioned" for mayor, seems from the statements attributed to him last night in the council to be opposed to an additional fire department on the North Side. He seems to think that the only reason anyone wanted the fire department was to secure a reduction in insurance rates. Any intelligent man knows that the object of fire facilities is to protect property, and that the better protection the people have for their property the less will they have to pay for insurance. It may be that Councilman Potter does not get insurance on his place of business, which is near the Central station, cheaper than someone farther away, but it is quite certain that he would not be able to get it for what he does if there was no fire department at all there. The object of another fire station on the North Side is to give the people who live blocks away from the nearest station good fire protection, which they do not have now owing to the distance of the department. It is not a question of insurance rates, which Councilman Potter, in his wisdom, seems to think it is, but a question of protection.

On the heels of his position on the fire station proposition came the police appropriation of nearly $25,000, while the appropriation under the Lang administration for the department was only $14,000, and yet Councilman Potter is not credited with any eloquent opposition to the appropriation. It is not clear how the city has increased in size to the extent, or the burdens of the police department have become so much greater in a year, as to justify nearly double the expense. If the city is not large enough to have another fire department, it is certainly not large enough to necessitate a doubling of its police appropriation, yet Councilman Potter shuts his eyes, forgets the people, and it is alleged voted for it. This is the kind of consistency we sometimes find in our municipal boards. This thing of being a friend to the people is very often a sham.

The Sun, as stated several days ago, believes in leaving the solution of questions affecting the public health to the board of health. This board may be incompetent, and its motives may not be good, but the presumption always is in its favor. Whether it should or should not have arbitrary power under some circumstances, it nevertheless certainly has it, and often justly or unjustly enforces it. The board of health in McCracken county has sought, apparently at least, to guide the people in infected districts, or districts alleged to be infected with smallpox or "alleged" smallpox, in a manner to redound to their own good health and that of other people who might contract the disease through the carelessness of the afflicted. Many obstacles have been thrown in the way of the authorities in this county and as a last resort they threaten to establish a quarantine, which would cost the business interests of Paducah and the county many thousands of dollars. Such things have been done and can be done now. We will not, but if it is it will of the people of this coun-

President Elliott of Harvard college has come out in defense of long working hours and hard work. He said in an address to 1500 high school pupils: "In 1896 I took occasion to say in a public speech that 'a scab is a hero' and I still see nothing wrong in that remark. I have been a believer in labor unions, but my remark angered one man high in the corridors of unionism, and he wrote a letter cordoning with me on my ignorance and winding it up with what he called a curse. It was, 'I wish that you may live long, have hard work, long hours and a hungry stomach while you live.' I believe that long hours and hard work is a best for every man. Work is the foundation of civilization and work makes nations as it does individuals. No man can work too hard or have hours too long if his health will permit."

The trouble with Prof. Elliott seems to be that he has never done much hard work of the character he mentions.

A cursory glance at the appropriations decided on last night for the various city departments indicates that there will be little in the way of public improvements this year. A couple of thousand dollars more than usual has been appropriated for the light plant, but it is claimed that it will cost $8,000 extra, at least, to give the people satisfactory service and consequently the indications are that not only will we not get any improvements, but are to have had lights another year besides.

A peculiar state of affairs exists in Chicago, according to reports. Bets on races are taken at every hotel and saloon by agents for a bookmaking concern. At the same time the juries have inaugurated the innovation of prying before they find a verdict.

Will Revolutionize Shipping.

An Austrian engineer of note, Herr Wetkovic, has invented a new type of ship recently which he claims will be capable of traveling at lightning speed. Herr Wetkovic declares that when perfected it will enable a journey around the world to be made in a week. The ship does not displace water, but glides over the surface like a skate over ice. Ingenious contrivances are constructed to minimize friction and air pressure. Experiments will begin shortly in the Adriatic sea, and Herr Wetkovic confidently asserts that the world will be astonished.

SOULE'S

IS BECOMING SERIOUS

State Health Officer Leaves and Threatens to Quarantine.

County Judge Lightfoot Says He Is Not Interfering With the Health Board.

THE STATE BOARD TO SETTLE

The controversy between County Judge Lightfoot and Dr. Frank Boyd, representative of the state board of health for McCracken county, may become very embarrassing to the people of the county, if the state board of health decides to establish a quarantine against McCracken county.

Dr. Arthur McCormack of Bowling Green, state health officer, came down yesterday, as told in yesterday's paper, and after making an examination of the disease in the Ragland and Lone Oak sections of the county claimed by the county health authorities to be smallpox decided that the conditions demanded more drastic than had been exercised heretofore, and in the afternoon he and Dr. Boyd called on County Judge Lightfoot at the court house.

They claim that they could get no satisfaction out of him, while Judge Lightfoot claims that he has nothing to do with the board's carrying out what it deems necessary, and cannot possibly interfere with the board of health, and consequently has nothing to do with it.

It seems that there is getting to be a great deal of feeling in the matter. Judge Lightfoot is not yet convinced that the disease is smallpox, while the state health officer declares positively that it is smallpox, and that there is serious danger of an epidemic in the localities where it has appeared. Dr. McCormack demands that the civil authorities co-operate with the county health board in stamping out the disease, and Judge Lightfoot declares that the law prescribes penalties for persons with smallpox, or who associate with persons having smallpox exposing themselves, and that if the law is violated the health authorities can prosecute in any court they see fit to secure a warrant in. He declares that these warrants do not have to be in his court, but that even if it is desired to bring charges in his court for refusing to be vaccinated he is willing to vacate the bench and allow some other judge to hear the cases.

The health authorities, on the other hand, claim that their work has been and is hampered by the position taken by some of the civil authorities, who, by declaring that people do not have to be vaccinated and that a disease pronounced smallpox by the health authorities is not smallpox, encourage these people to refuse to be vaccinated when vaccination would possibly be beneficial to them and others, and to ignore quarantine regulations and the orders of the health board on the presumption that there is no use in it, the civil authorities inducing them to think it is not smallpox.

Thus the matter stands. Health Officer McCormack stated before he left last night for home that there would be a meeting of the state board of health tonight or tomorrow, and that if the county did not agree in the meantime to co-operate in protecting the people from the danger of an epidemic the state board would establish a quarantine against McCracken county which would practically shut us off from the outside world, except via Illinois. He estimated that the cost to the city would be $200,000. When he left for home he was not in a very pleasant frame of mind, and if the state board desires it can do Paducah a great deal of harm.

At last night's council meeting the matter was freely discussed and General Agent J. T. Donovan of the Illinois Central was on hand and addressed the council, stating that he had been advised to get all perishable freight out of the yards here, as a quarantine was likely to be declared within forty-eight hours.

This is where the matter now stands. There is a great deal of interest being taken in the matter, especially among the business men, and the result hinges on what the state board does at its meeting at Louisville. That if persons violate the law and charges are preferred he is willing to issue warrants against them and see that they get justice under the laws. That no warrants have been issued for before him, and if there have been in the past violations of the law he is not aware of it, and the health board has not applied for warrants.

The local representative of the state board of health this afternoon stated that the matter was now out of the hands of the county board, and in the hands of the state board. That if it is not settled by Monday a committee from the state board will be sent down here to take what steps are deemed necessary for the protection of the people and to prevent the spread of the disease.

This morning a committee composed of Mayor Yeiser, Councilman Reed and Dr. J. Q. Taylor called on Dr. Boyd and were informed that the question could probably be settled by Judge Lightfoot agreeing in writing to do all in his power that is legal to assist the board of health in its work.

He said that the committee afterwards called on Judge Lightfoot and that the latter agreed to the above.

It seems this afternoon that if this is done the danger of being quarantined will be remote.

WOULD HAVE MONEY WASHED

Treasury Official Makes a Suggestion of Value.

"If the bankers of the country only knew the great difference a little soap and water makes in a dirty bank note there would be more clean money in circulation," said a treasury official.

"If you have never seen the operation, just spread a soiled note out upon a marble slab and use a small brush that has been well soaped and go to work scrubbing, lightly, of course. But a few strokes are necessary to secure a clean note. I give my personal attention to all the paper money brought into my household, and I tell you I feel repaid for the little work it causes."

"I can see every reason why there should be a person employed in the banking houses for this particular duty. Certainly the neglect in doing so gives ample cause for complaint from the patrons concerning the dirty, oily notes that are too frequently handed to them. They may be full of germs, which, of course, are dangerous, and this risk could be easily eliminated by the simple use of soap and water."—St. Louis Republic.

TO PUSH BARROW 14,000 MILES

Minneapolis Man Undertakes Task to Pay a Mortgage.

Dan Gray, the Minneapolis wheelbarrow pusher, who is trying to make 14,000 miles in 700 days, so as to pay off a $2,500 mortgage, passed through Chicago last night. When he arrived here he had traveled 517 miles in twenty-two days, being seventy-seven miles ahead of his schedule. He had gained seven pounds in weight since starting.

His 14,000 mile tramp will take him east to Portland Me., south to Jacksonville, Fla., west to San Francisco, north to Tacoma, Wash., and east again to Minneapolis.

The mortgage on Gray's home is held by a rich but eccentric individual named John Holton of Mankato, Minn. Holton offered to cancel the mortgage if Gray would show that he was willing, like the heroes of mythological lore, to undertake some arduous task to demonstrate his worth. The 14,000 mile tramp was decided upon as one sufficiently difficult to prove his courage and stamina. Gray has a wife and three children, whom he will not see for two years, if he completes his trip.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

MUCH SORROW

Death of Mrs. W. E. Cave Occasions Profound Regret.

Succumbed to a Brief Illness at 11 o'clock Last Night.

Mrs. W. E. Cave, after a two weeks' illness, died last night at 11 o'clock at her home on North Seventh street, and thus ended the life of one of Paducah's most beautiful and lovable women. For the past several days death had been expected, and yesterday it became evident that dissolution was near at hand. She began slowly to sink, and last night breathed her last, surrounded by her family.

The deceased was second daughter of the late Mr. E. H. Wisdom, and was born August 15, 1865, at Clarksville, Tenn. She was married to Rev. Cave October 23, 1885, and six children survive them, as follows: Belle, Henry, Mary, Edward, Nellie and Jack. Two sisters survive her, Mrs. George C. Wallace of the city and Mrs. Charles J. Bronston of Lexington.

The deceased was prominent in church and charity work and a most lovable lady in every particular, with many friends wherever she was known.

Her sister, Mrs. Bronston, who is in Boston, has been summoned and is expected as soon as she can get here.

The funeral will take place Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church, burial at Oak Grove.

FELL INTO THE DITCH.

PONY BELONGING TO MR. WYNNE TULLY HAS A NARROW ESCAPE.

A colt belonging to Mr. Wynne Tully, the liverman, became unmanageable at Fifth and Washington streets about noon today while it was being driven by Mr. Owen Tully and fell into one of the deep steam pipe ditches. It was some time before the animal could be hauled out, and a large crowd was attracted, but fortunately it escaped serious injury and was able to walk away.

WITH THE SICK.

Mrs. Walter Clark is on the sick list.

Miss Mabel Roberts of the public schools is ill at her home on Ohio street.

Mrs. W. H. Sanders, wife of the physician, has gone to Smithland to attend the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Emily Davis, who is seriously ill.

The little daughters of Mr. C. F. Schrader are seriously ill of pneumonia.

Mr. William Orr, the bartender, is ill of rheumatism.

The little son of Mr. Lawrence Gleaves, who has been ill of typhoid fever, is no better today.

Mr. John Decker of the master mechanic's office here has gone to Metropolis on business.

CLEVER BOY

TOOK THE TEACHER'S FOOD.

Careful observation on part of parents and school authorities as to proper food to use to bring up children will lead to a healthy generation.

A pep in a Philadelphia, Pa., school says: "I had a severe attack of typhoid fever, after which I was so very weak and delicate that I could not attend school regular."

"One day our teacher, who is a great student and able teacher, gave a lesson in physiology, in which proper food was discussed. She recommended Grape-Nuts to the class, as she had used the food a long while and watched results."

"I thought that if Grape-Nuts had enabled her to teach a class of boys as she taught us the food would do me good in my weak state, and I commenced eating it."

"I have used Grape-Nuts steadily for over a year, am a little past 15 years old, and now measure 5 feet 8 inches, weigh 137 pounds and am strong and well, having entirely recovered from my weak and delicate condition. I am very fond of athletics and join actively in all the sports in our vicinity."

"I can truthfully say that Grape-Nuts is just the food for me and has built me up into a strong, active boy." Name given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

COSTS NOTHING UNLESS CURED

A FAIR OFFER TO ALL CATARRH SUFFERERS.

The leading druggists of this city are selling Hyomei on a plan that has caused considerable talk amongst their customers.

The plan is different from that followed by other remedies, but the remedy itself is different also. This treatment for the cure of catarrh has such an unusual record of cures to its credit that all druggists are authorized to refund the money if it does not give the desired benefit. This is certainly one of the fairest offers that can be made, and anyone who has catarrh and does not take advantage of it is doing himself or herself an injustice.

The Hyomei treatment consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The complete treatment costs but $1, and as the inhaler will last a lifetime and there is sufficient Hyomei for more than a month's use, the medicine is very inexpensive. Many people who have used it write that for the good Hyomei has done them they would willingly pay thousands of dollars. Extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured for use with the inhaler at 50 cents.

Do not suffer any longer with tickling, smarting, irritating, burning, eye-watering troubles that afflict those who have catarrh. Hyomei will cure you, but if you should not find it adapted to your case your druggist will return your money.

Theatrical Notes.

Coming attractions at The Kentucky:

Monday night—"The Belle of New York."

Friday night—Mrs. LeMoine in "Among Those Present."

Next week only two attractions at The Kentucky and of the highest possible merit.

The announcement of the coming of "David Harum" is certain to arouse feelings of pleasure in advance to countless people who are familiar with Westcott's book. The play is said to be a delightful reproduction of all the amusing scenes so aptly and cleverly described in the book.

Arthur Dunn is to star next season in a dramatization of "Little Boy Blue," written by the late Eugene Field. It will be dramatized by Ezra Kendall, who is Mr. Dunn's brother-in-law, and Mrs. Kendall, professionally known as Jennie Dunn, will be in the cast.

The foremost musical production on the road today is "The Belle of New York," which is now making its sixth annual tour of America. "The Belle" is made up of such catchy musical numbers and such meritorious lyrics that it seems destined to run many seasons more. It will be the offering at The Kentucky Monday night.

An Australian theatrical manager is trying to induce Maurice Campbell to send Henrietta Crossman to that country and take with her not only "The Sword of the King," her play of this season, but also "Mistress Nell," "As You Like It," "Madeline" and "Nance Oldfield." The tour as he outlined it included a stop at Honolulu for a few performances, but at present there is no chance of Miss Crossman leaving America. She says she is doing well enough here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Flint in their entertainment here soon will put a whole class under the hypnotic influence and while in this state give them the suggestion of baseball. The class will see the whole game played before their eyes. Mrs. Herbert L. Flint is more than an able second to Dr. Flint, her work having a grace and finish that has never been equalled by any lady operator. They will be here for a week and will not put on the same scene twice.

"Among Those Present," the new comedy-drama played by Mrs. LeMoine, will be presented at The Kentucky on Friday night just as it was produced some weeks ago at the Garden theater, New York City, the home of fashionable drama and society comedy. It is said that rarely has so massive and realistic a stage portrayal of fashionable society come out of New York. As a comedy of manners and a mine of witty sayings and infectious humor "Among Those Present" is in a class by itself, while on its ethical side it appeals to the best instincts and enforces a sound lesson without sermonizing.

The advent of "The Strollers" here soon will give our theater-goers an opportunity of seeing a New York Broadway production in its entirety, and one of the best and most recent success. The Marguerita Sylva company presenting it is an organization which needs but little introduction. Miss Sylva is surrounded by a cast that is beyond reproach, containing as it does some of the most illustrious names in the realms of comedy. The whole presentation has the personal guarantee of Messrs. Nixon and Zim-

HERE'S A BABY

Its Mother is Well.

The baby is healthy because during the period of gestation its mother used the popular and purely vegetable liniment,

Mother's Friend

Her health, that of the child and their lives, depend on keeping free from pain, worry and melancholy. Be of good cheer, strong of heart and peaceful mind. Mother's Friend can and will make you so. Bearing down pains, morning sickness, sore breast and insomnia are all relieved by this wonderful remedy.

merman, who have been responsible for nearly all the big efforts in a musical way of recent years.

Seldom has so young an actress as Mrs. Bruce received such laudatory encomiums as greeted her wonderful impersonation last season of Theodora, and the criticisms which have rewarded her efforts this season as "Unorna" are even more eulogistic than they, some even going so far as to christen her the American Bernhardt, for in her performance of the imperious Unorna she has a character which permits her to run the entire gamut of dramatic art, from the lightest touch of comedy to the penetrating depths of tragic emotion, a veritable kaleidoscope of human experience. Armed with such a formidable play and supported by such an excellent company as Wallace Munro, has surrounded her, there is little reason to wonder at the phenomenal success that has rewarded this, her latest creation.

Always a production of beautiful brightness and merry tunefulness is promised by the management, and this season's "The Belle of New York" company is better in every respect than it was in the past. Special efforts have been made to secure a company of players great in comedy work and with voices of great range and splendid cultivation. Although "The Belle of New York" is the most popular and brightest and has more harmonious catchiness than any other musical production of recent years, it requires more talent in its players than any of the others. They feel sure that they got them in Miss Floye Redledge, Miss Marie della Rosa, Miss Charlotte Uart, Miss Toby Craig, Mr. James Darling, Mr. Joseph Natus, Mr. Harry A. Truax, Mr. Harry J. Siegfried, Mr. Frank C. Fay, Miss Jeanette Lewis and others. In addition to these principals there is an exceptionally good looking and sweet-voiced chorus. "The Belle of New York" will appear at The Kentucky Monday night.

The new play, "Among Those Present," in which Mrs. LeMoine is starring this year, was so well liked by New York play-goers that but for a difficulty in the bookings people in this section would not have had an early opportunity of seeing it. The actress' run at the Garden theater, New York, was terminated on November 29 by reason of previous contracts between the management of the theater and Mr. E. S. Willard, which it was found impossible to cancel. The new play is of particular interest because it satirizes well known characters in the Four Hundred, and throughout the New York engagement the boxes and choicest portion of the orchestra were reserved for rich folk who wanted to see themselves as Mr. Glen MacDonough, the author of the play, sees them. As an intimate and realistic picture of New York society "Among Those Present" will prove unusually attractive to Manager English's patrons at The Kentucky, where it will be seen on Friday night with Mrs. LeMoine as star.

TOOK NO CHANCES

AN AMUSING ADVENTURE OF A CITIZEN LAST NIGHT.

Since the many holdups in the city nearly everyone who has to remain out late at night carries a pistol for protection and adopts every means of precaution against surprises in the way of holdup men. Last night a well known gentleman was coming home from the show and upon reaching a corner where no light was hung saw a man bending over near a fence as if to escape notice. The pedestrian thought he was hiding behind the fence to escape detection, and was waiting for his chance to knock him in the head and take his money. The gentleman had his pistol in his overcoat pocket and before he had thought twice had pulled it out and covered the suspect. The suspect, however, proved to be his next door neighbor, who had broken his umbrella and was bending over trying to adjust one of the ribs. They had a good laugh over the affair, but the gentleman who was covered did not think it so funny at the time he saw the pistol staring him in the face.

His Idea of Absent-Mindedness. Counselor E—, while cross-examining a witness in a will contest, asked him what was his conception of absent-mindedness, the witness having characterized the decedent as exceedingly absent-minded. The witness replied: "I should say that a man who thought he left his watch at home and took it out of his pocket to see if he had time to go home and get it was a 'leetle' absent-minded."

NEW BRIDGE COMPLETED.

County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson has returned from the county and reports the bridge at Ware's Branch completed, also the 3,500 feet of new road near it. The Illinois Central railroad is to pay for the bridge and for a portion of the road.

Mrs. W. B. Pace, of Louisville, who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Mary Burnett and of Mr. and Mrs. Muscoe Barnett on West Broadway, returned home this week. The illness of Mr. Pace cut short her visit, and caused double regret.

Cards were received here this week by friends, to the christening of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones of Sheffield avenue, Chicago. The little lady is named Elizabeth Fletcher Jones. Mrs. Alexander Kirkland and daughter Elizabeth who have been visiting Mrs. Jones for some weeks and remained over for the important event are expected home today.

The Thomas Parker is due out of Cumberland Monday or Tuesday.

The REFORMER

By CHARLES M. SHELTON,
Author of "In His Steps," "Robert Hardy's Seven Days," Etc.

Copyright, 1901, by Charles M. Sheldon

Without any reply John Gordon, still keeping his hand on his companion's arm, began to go up the stairs. Under their feet they could feel the slimy filth that had accumulated for weeks. Half way up something passed them going down. It was a little girl about eight years old carrying in her arms a baby. In the dim light which filtered through the hall at the top of the flight the two men could hardly make out this child of the tenements, burdened long years before the time with a human responsibility, robbed of playground and childhood and thrust into a world of suffering and discomfort. Poor mournful creature, a woman in gravity and a child in years, bending over her dirty face over the gasping little sister in your slim arms, sitting on the steps late into the night with the bundle that may actually die in your arms, and no one but yourself feel much grief if it does. Child of the tenements, you do not know it, but it is a beautiful world that God has made. There are trees and flowers and clear water and perfumed zephyrs and grass dotted with bloom. But oh, for you, little sister, who shall reveal its beauty, who shall discover to you its glory, O child of the tenements, in the great city by the lakes?

At the top of the stairs John Gordon paused a moment and then turned to the left and led his companion along to a doorway opening on a corridor looking out on the airshaft. A railing ran around this corridor, and leaning over it were a number of persons, mostly women, some of them holding babies, others doing some kind of work. The stench that rose from the court below was made doubly intolerable by the smoke from the chimneys of the rear tenements on the adjoining lot, which drifted into the corridor and swept into every doorway.

"Good afternoon, Mrs. Caylor. How is the little boy today?"

"Poorly, sir. Will you go in and see him?" Then she glanced suspiciously at Mr. Marsh and added: "But you can't do anything for him. Better leave him be."

"This is Mr. Marsh, Mrs. Caylor. He is the owner of the building. He wants to see some of the rooms. We can go in?"

The woman's face lighted up just for a second, then all died out to that dull indifference which has long ago lost all hope of anything better farther on.

"I don't care," she answered with sullen indifference.

John Gordon at once turned into the room, and Mr. Marsh reluctantly followed. There were two windows, but both opened on the corridor. Gordon walked across to an opening and turned to beckon to Mr. Marsh, who had stopped.

"I want you to see a specimen of a dark bedroom, Mr. Marsh. You don't need to visit more than one. But it is worth knowing that there are hundreds more like this one."

Mr. Marsh came across to Gordon's side.

"This is more terrible than I ever dreamed," he said in a whisper.

"Nothing when you get used to it, sir. Let's step in. There isn't much to see."

They entered the room, which was absolutely dark except for the light that entered through the room they had just left. Gordon felt his way until his hand touched something, and then he said gently:

"Louie, how are you today?"

"Not very well. That you, Mr. Gordon?"

"Yes. I've brought you something. Here. Catch on, little man."

"It's fine!" the thin eager voice exclaimed. "Don't tell mother. She'll take it away."

"No, no, Louie. She won't. The doctor will let you have it." John Gordon said reassuringly, and then he was silent. Mr. Marsh was close by, and both men stood still a moment.

In the stillness a distinct rustling sound could be heard. It was like the rustling of tissue paper or the scratching of small mice.

"What's that?" Mr. Marsh asked.

"Wait a minute; I'll show you," Gordon answered quietly. "Shut your eyes, Louie. I'm going to light a match."

He struck the match and held it up. The pale light revealed in the few seconds that the match burned a broken bedstead and a ragged, filthy mattress on which lay a child about ten years old. The walls of the room had once been papered before the double decker had been constructed so that some of it had blocked up the windows that had once opened on the rear lot. This paper now hung in festoons and strings all over the ceiling, and Mr. Marsh, looking in horror at the sight, in that brief moment, not too brief to tell one whole story of the tenement house hell, saw countless swarms of bugs and vermin crawling over the paper. It was that that had made the noise.

The match flickered and went out. There was a moment of silence, broken by Gordon, who said cheerfully:

"All right, Louie! Keep up good heart. I'll try to get in and see you tomorrow."

"Thank you, Mr. Gordon."

Mr. Marsh pulled at Gordon's arm. "For God's sake, Gordon, let's get out of here. I'm growing sick. I shall faint."

"Come out into the fresh air!" Gordon said ironically.

They went out into the corridor, and Mr. Marsh in his eagerness to get out of the building did not even stop to reply to several of the women who had learned from Mrs. Caylor that he owned the double decker and crowded up to complain about the garbage boxes and the drainpipes. While Gordon was talking with Mrs. Caylor about Louie, Mr. Marsh went down, hurried as fast as he dared through the lower court, and when John Gordon came out he found him seated on the outer steps, deathly pale and actually sick.

Gordon grimly eyed him.

"It's only 4 o'clock. We'll have time to do the other. There are some features of No. 97 that are peculiar. I would like to have you see them."

"I cannot go, Gordon. It's out of the question. I am too ill."

"Let's go over to Hope House, then," John Gordon said gravely.

Mr. Marsh, with difficulty, walked over to Hope House. On the way Gordon said:

"There is an ordinance which says that there shall be spaces between front and rear tenements, graduated according to the height of the building. If the tenement is one story high, there must be ten feet between front and rear; if two stories, fifteen feet; if four stories, twenty-five feet, etc. Your agent deliberately ignored this law and built your double decker so as to cover all the space. In doing so he deliberately established a condition that permitted of no light in a dozen bedrooms like the one we went into. More than that, he created conditions that breed anarchy, for if the rich and cultured citizens of this municipality for their own gain selfishly trample on the laws of the city what can they expect from the poor and the desperate and the ignorant but hatred of all society?"

"I'm too sick to discuss it," Mr. Marsh groaned. Gordon saw that he was actually suffering severely, and when they entered Hope House he gave him careful attention.

It was only a temporary indisposition, however, and after resting an hour Mr. Marsh recovered sufficiently to sit up and expressed some mortification at the way he had behaved. But his manner was very grave, and the experience of his visit to the building was evidently making a profound impression on him.

To Gordon's disappointment, Miss Andrews had been called away and was not present at the evening meal. Mr. Marsh was able to be at the table with the residents and was a close listener to the talk, although he said little.

"Do you feel equal to a little work this evening, Mr. Marsh?" Gordon asked after the residents had adjourned to the library and had begun to scatter for their several duties.

"I think so; yes," Mr. Marsh answered. He was really ashamed of his inability to endure unusual sights of disagreeable human suffering.

"Then perhaps we had better visit one of the vaudeville halls. I want you to see how the saloon, as a political institution, comes in to supplement the absence of home life. Perhaps it will help you to understand better, if you want to, why the tenement house conditions are not interfered with and why it is to the interest of the politician that the people suffer as far as endurance will go in the matter of no homes."

At 9 o'clock, in company with an officer in citizen's clothes who was detailed to look after Hope House district, Gordon and Marsh entered one of the vaudeville halls joining a corner saloon on Bowen street. Mr. Marsh was unusually excited. His university training, his exclusive, refined culture, his sensitive habits, were all the exact opposite of everything he had felt and seen since he entered Hope House district. He went in with Gordon, and they took seats in the rear of the sawdust covered floor in a hall that would hold 200 persons. They faced a gaudily painted curtain, which let down in front of a small stage. The hall rapidly filled up with men and boys. The air was heavy with the fumes of beer and tobacco. The night was sultry, and at the saloon bar, which was visible through the doorway opening into the hall, could be seen a long line of men and women drinking, while others stood behind the line reaching their hands over for glasses or waiting their turn to get up to the bar itself.

Three violins, a harp and a piano began to play, and the curtain went up. At that very moment in Christian homes all over America good women knelt at clean beds by the side of pure hearted little children to repeat the evening prayer to the good God. But will the time speedily come when little voices shall swell the thunder of the good God's wrath against an institution that carries into homeless deserts of the great cities the plague of death, the foul touch of lost virtue for the sake of gold?

LADIES! $500 REWARD

For a case of oppression, any cause in pathology, my monthly reg. fails to relieve; safe, harmless; mail; how long suppressed. DR. JACKSON R. CO., 109 Dearborn St., Chicago.

MISS ELEANOR GRAY,

President of the Woman's Art Association of ST. AUGUSTINE, FLORIDA.

43 King Street, ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., Feb. 5, 1902.

I have not enjoyed good health for the past five years, and were it not for Wine of Cardui I would still be a sufferer today. I was troubled with profuse menstruation, was very irregular and often menstruated every three weeks instead of at the proper periods. Each time I would have severe cramps and bearing down pains with backache unfitting me for office work, and compelling me to lie down for several hours each day and sometimes the entire day. I used several remedies and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief, but all of no avail. Fortunately, one of your Ladies' Birthday Almanacs came into my hands and I became much interested, naturally hoping that it would cure me as it had cured others. I took my first dose that night and kept up the treatment religiously. My vitality, which had been well nigh spent by the heavy loss of blood, was gradually restored. I noticed a marked absence of pain at the next period, also a more natural flow. I kept up the treatment for four months and found to my joy that I was entirely well, and the functions of nature were performed naturally and easily. Wine of Cardui is certainly a grand medicine and gladly do I give it entire credit for my wonderful restoration to health.

Eleanor Gray

MISS GRAY took Wine of Cardui and stuck to it. That is what she means when she says she "kept up the treatment religiously". She is rid of her terrible suffering because she took this mild and simple remedy, because she did not put it off a day or a week and then stop. She took Wine of Cardui and gave its curative qualities time to build up her weak parts, regulate her functions and cure the terrible pains in her back. And Wine of Cardui so used will never fail to benefit any case of female trouble however serious it may be. Wine of Cardui cannot restore dead organs, but it does cure menstrual troubles, which sap the body of its strength and result in back-breaking, bearing-down pains. Wine of Cardui is a simple vegetable remedy that has cured hundreds of thousands of women suffering from leucorrhoea, bearing-down pains and all the common menstrual disorders when they have taken it according to the directions on the bottle. If you will secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist and take a few doses of it every day you will have the same relief Miss Gray enjoys. Never let anyone sell you a substitute for Wine of Cardui.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River 13.7 feet on the gauge, a fall of 0.5 in last 24 hours. Wind northwest, a light breeze. Weather cloudy and warmer. Rainfall fall in last 24 hours, 0.16 inches. Temperature 40. Fell, Observer.

The I. N. Hook is laying up.

The Avalon is due from Tennessee river.

The J. M. Howell got away for Tennessee river yesterday.

The Dick Fowler departed on time this morning for Cairo.

The Pavonia went into Cumberland river yesterday for ties.

Mate Gus Aubrey of the Dick Fowler is much improved today.

The Butteroff will arrive Sunday or Monday from Cumberland river.

The Hopkins is today's Evansville packet and had not arrived at press time.

The Tennessee arrived from Tennessee river yesterday and will depart tonight at 6 o'clock on her return trip to Waterloo.

The Mary Michael got away yesterday for Mississippi river for lumber. She will bring up a tow of lumber for the Ferguson and Palmer people.

The Victor arrived yesterday afternoon from Tennessee river with ties. She will go out again tonight into Tennessee. She is today at Joppa unloading her tow.

The river is still running heavy with ice. The captains on the big coal towboats laying here have telephoned up the river and heavy ice is reported as high as Evansville, with rain and a fall of the river.

Repairs on the Henrietta have been completed with the exception of a few touches of paint, and will today be let off the dry docks. She will enter the trade within four or five days after the painting has been finished.

The river men are very anxious for the ice to melt so that navigation will again open up in the Ohio. It is more expensive to lay up a steamboat than to keep her running, for as long as she is running she is doing work and making profits over expenses, and while laying up she is making nothing.

TO GOTHAM

SYRIANS TO BE TAKEN BACK FOR DEPORTATION.

An officer from New Orleans and another officer from New York, passed through the city at noon today en route to New York city with five Assyrians in charge. The Assyrians are being taken to New York for examination and reshipment home. They slipped in from Mexico without the proper examinations, etc., and were caught in New Orleans. Two of the prisoners had attempted to enter this country in the proper way but failed on account of heart disease of some kind, but left again and slipped in through Mexico. Last night one of the men was taken ill and the officers were unable to understand what he wanted. Fortunately an Assyrian woman was on board the train, en route to New York, and she acted as interpreter for the officers.

Motor Cloaks.

The motor mania has led to the fashioning of coats out of various skins never before pressed into feminine fashion, and this fall fur motor cloaks will multiply surprisingly, says the Pittsburgh Times. The smooth hair furs are, of course, the only ones practicable for the purpose, and the latest innovation is the use of the Russian pony skin. It is so tough that there is no wearing it out, is impervious to cold, defies all weathers, is easily worked, and with its soft brown hue is decidedly becoming.
